Here's Ally:

I completed my undergraduate degree in May 2010 at the University of Wyoming receiving my BA in Kinesiology and Health Promotion. After graduation I plan to stay in California and pursue a position in an outpatient orthopedic clinic. At some point down the road I hope to open a private practice.

Here's Chrissy:

Undergrad: at University of Missouri-Columbia. Plans after graduation: Plan to work part time in outpatient and inpatient. After I gain experience I have aspirations to own my own business/practice.

Here's Sandy:

Teaching in the Dept. of PT since 2001 in courses with emphasis in movement analysis, prosthetics and orthotics, and pediatric physical therapy. Board certified Pediatric Clinical Specialist. Educated at University of the Pacific, receiving BA in Sports Sciences, Masters and Doctoral degrees in physical therapy also from Pacific. 12 years of clinical practice, primarily in pediatrics. Research interests include multi-disciplinary care models for management of birth brachial plexus injuries and design of ambulatory assistive devices for adults with severe, chronic neurological balance disorders. This trip with Rotary was full of "firsts": first with Rotary, first wheelchair distribution, and first passport stamp.
